Gate Span Has 11th Birthday

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—(AP)—The Golden Gate bridge is 11 years old today. Lowest suspension bridge in the world, it was opened to pedestrians May 27, 1937, and to vehicular traffic the next day.

President Daniel P. Del Carlo of the bridge district, said revenues for the year ending June 30 would reach $4,000,000, highest on record, but declared there was no chance for toll reductions any time soon. The tolls are as low as is practical now, he said.

In 1931 the annual traffic with reach 9,000,000 cars, Del Carlo predicted, with tolls of $6.00. Bonded indebtedness has been cut from $35,000,000 to $33,600,000. The anniversary will be observed at a meeting of the bridge board of directors in Napa tomorrow.

NOW IT'S THE BOLD LOOK
BOSTON (AP)—This year it's the "bold look" for men. As a showing of fashions by the Men's Apparel club the newest new look consisted of longer coats, wider shirt collars and ties that would put a sunset to shame.
