Samantha-

Hello from Kansas!

Congrats on your new gig! Glad to see your time as a Brownback intern hasn't held you back at all...

I sent you a note through LinkedIn asking you about attending KCP&L's Board of Directors annual meeting later this month (March 27). They're a client of mine and would love to have you attend. I know it's a quick turnaround and you just started a new job, but I thought you might like a trip home. It's a good group business leaders. The meeting would be private--no press--and friendly.

If not, no big deal. Just thought I'd ask. Hope it works out for you.

Again, congrats on the new job! Very happy for you and all your success.

Riley
