Dear Manfred:

I am afraid I reacted somewhat more aggressively to the bulletin that you sent me, supplied by the Occupational Health Laboratories in Houston, Texas. I am glad to have had Tom's letter, putting the matter of MDTA in its darkest light. I also take violent exception to Item III under prevention. When doctors name commercial preparations and talk about pre-disposition in that fashion, things are sad indeed. I also am out of sympathy with Item I under follow-up. Those words "abnormally sensitive" drive me crazy.

Thanks for your other items of interest in recent correspondence.

I will see you on the first.

As ever yours,

/s/ Harriet
