it was removed from the market, even the test market.

Q Was that because of the complaints of customers?

A Yes, the customers did not like this product, the people that actually put it up, because it didn't function well for them as far as a thermal insulation.

Q Mr. Helser, did you ever do comparisons of other types of pipe insulation of other competitors?

A Yes, we did that all the time.

In fact, we even do that to this day. We test competitor insulations of high temperature. We did that during the '60s, '70s, '80s.

Q During the 1960s, was there any product on the market that didn't contain asbestos that could heat pipes at 12, 1800 degrees back in the '60s?

A Not in the '60s, no, sir.

Q Now, is there a time when you left Granville?

A Yes, I left Granville in September of 1965.

Q Where did you go?
