Dear Mr. Dowell:

In the November 7 meeting, I agreed to determine the feasibility of carrying an emergency kit on commercial airliners as baggage. Our Transportation Supervisor took the list found in your letter of October 31, 1969, and called the major airlines represented in Houston for their opinion. All airlines said there would be no problem with taking these items on a commercial flight as personal baggage.

Very truly yours,

PAUL M. REED
CHIEF CHEMIST
