Subject OSHA Organization and Policy - Texas City Plant

Attached is an updated copy of the plant organization for OSHA matters. There are no major changes other than in committee compositions.

As before, the management policy at Union Carbide's Texas City Plant is to meet or exceed the intent of the regulations in the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970.

GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR
OSHA COMPLIANCE OFFICER VISITS

Be courteously impersonal.

Do not keep the OSHA Compliance Officer waiting.

Make The OSHA Compliance Officer feel that you know the law, or are studying it.

Answer questions, but do not volunteer information.

Have well-kept and documented records.

Have records readily available.

If the Compliance Officer cites a problem, do not start to record it unless he does so first. Make a mental note of the problem or record it later.

It is preferable to pick up the Department Head and the Foreman of a facility as the inspection is progressing. Immediate answers from knowledgeable personnel are very beneficial.

Attempt to make a copy of the Compliance Officer's notes before he leaves the plant.

RECEPTIONIST

When an OSHA Compliance Officer arrives,

- a. Ask him for his OSHA Compliance Officer Identification. Record his name and identification number.
- b. Ascertain if the officer is inspecting UCC or a contractor. If for UCC, follow, c, d, e, below. If the visit is to see a contractor, contact one of the following as a Facility Coordinator and tell him the circumstances:
 1. W. P. Haskins, ext. 4689
 2. F. L. Keller, ext. 4463
 3. W. H. Barlow, ext. 5112

Then follow c, d, e, but be sure to tell the regular Facility Coordinator of your actions.

- c. Call a Facility Coordinator and advise him of the impending inspection. (The Facility Coordinator will get the OSHA Compliance Officer from the lobby.)
- d. Provide the OSHA Compliance Officer with a pass, advise him of the no smoking and lighter rules, etc. Treat him JUST AS YOU WOULD ANY OTHER VISITOR.
- e. By telephone relay the name and identification number to the Safety and Fire Protection Department secretary, ext. 5477, who will verify their credentials.

MANAGER'S SECRETARY

1. Upon notification of the presence of an OSHA Compliance Officer, notify all members of the Plant Managers Department.
2. Upon receipt of results of the credentials verification by the Safety and Fire Protection Department secretary, notify the Plant Manager as soon as possible.
3. Notify the following of the inspection:

SHARE Manager, Solvents and Intermediates

R. R. Rankin 8-5947, (713) 486-5947, (713) 486-1558

Vice-President, Operations and Technology
