Dear Rob:

This letter will respond to your letter of April 20, 2011 complaining about Georgia-Pacific's alleged failure to comply with its obligation to produce documents in response to your supposed discovery requests in the Evans, Blount, Fields and Philips cases.

First, I wanted to note that you have never served any document requests (or any form of written discovery requests) upon Georgia-Pacific in the Blount, Fields or Philips cases, so Georgia-Pacific has no current obligation to produce any documents in those matters.

With respect to the Anna Evans case, Georgia-Pacific's responses to Plaintiff's Interrogatories and Requests for Production are due today and I am attaching those responses to this correspondence. As you will see, Georgia-Pacific is willing to produce any non-privileged documents that it can locate in its files relating to the studies you reference, and the Company will provide a log of materials protected by the attorney-client, work product or other applicable privileges.

We are endeavoring to collect and log responsive materials now with a tentative goal of making a production in advance of your requested date of June 6, 2011.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Lee Ann Anand
