Other Developments:

• MONSANTO CO. announced in St. Louis it plans to phase out manufacture of a toxic group of chemicals known as PCBs, which environmentalists contend threaten public health. "As soon as we are satisfied that the electrical power supply industry's needs for usable, acceptable alternate dielectric fluids have been met, by whomever, Monsanto will voluntarily shut down its PCB manufacturing unit," a company spokesman said.

ANSWER

BY BILLY GRAHAM

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: When we were young we were taught that heaven was "up, beyond the clouds."
