Dear Ken:

The following are our answers to the questions posed in your November 21, 1980 letter:

1. No. We see administrative headaches and see no offsetting benefits.
2. None.
3. No. It would likely break the treasury.
4. No.
5. The wording of the question implies that national already provides some financial support to local sections. Other than a $5 "kickback" on journal subscriptions to non-national members, we know of no support. However, our section is financially solvent and we see no need for support except in special circumstances.
6. Perhaps support would be of help to a struggling new section.
7. Yes, they seem to be.

Sincerely,

James J. Hall
