Do you recall that?

A Yes, sir.

Q Okay. And I think it was Mr. Carter who testified that during the course of the brake job during those years because they didn't have the lift, they would do either the front brakes or the rear brakes, correct?

A Yes, sir.

Q So if we take that testimony into consideration, then, would it be fair to say that in order to change all of the brakes in the 150 vehicles, given the testimony of Mr. Carter, that would have been somewhere in the neighborhood of 300 brake jobs?

A Yes, sir.

Q Okay. Now, I am going to have yet another opportunity to display my poor math skills for the jury, but maybe you can help me out here.

THE COURT: Would you like to use my calculator?

MR. WILLIAMS: I am not very good with technology either, Your Honor, but thank you for the
