Medicine to please readers a revealing new weekly feature on the crucial work of medical internists.
Entitled "Doctor's Diagnosis," this new Examiner column will spotlight a true case history describing the work of doctors of internal medicine. It will relate the involved investigative process, much like crime-detection, used by modern internists.
Each weekly story comes from the files of the California Society of Internal Medicine—exclusively to The Examiner. Then Allen, applying his 23 years of writing experience to the medical facts, weaves a bright and human story—each one a complete case history.
Allen, who won the Amer-

Budget Cut Held False Economy

Brig. Gen. Harold P. Little told an Armed Forces Day luncheon yesterday that slashing the Nation's defense budget is false economy.
Little, commander of the 340th Fighter Bomber Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base, pointed to the need to retain trained personnel in the armed forces by offering higher pay and other incentives.
The luncheon was attended by about 150 Richmond civic and business leaders.
