

wimming Meet Promises ig Splash at P.G. Saturday

The clean cool water of Pacific Grove's municipal plunge will see the bodies of nearly 100 swimmers and divers Saturday, in the annual swimming meet takes place at 10 a m. It is here that eager young aquatic stars will compete with each other in a program featuring racing and diving, until 12 30 when the meet ends.

With the sanction and approval of the Red Cross, the Recreation Commission, and the Adult School, Saturday's swim festival will include an instruction course given by Elmer Hawkins. Some of the pupils frolicked in the pool under his tutelage, trying to do their four and five-year-old lessons to swim.

Angible rewards for the winners Saturday come in the form of certificates and medals, but the value of the aquatic experience has already been gained by the children—they can now call themselves swimmers.

The principal events of Sunday's water sports for youngsters however, here are six fields of "open" competition in the diving and swimming trials, with no age limit attached. Hawkins announced that public entries are welcome in all of the divisions.

Judges who will evaluate dives include winners as Carl Lund, John P. Jones, Lyle Crocker, Hank August, and George King. The program:

FAVORITES WIN

Yesterday's competition saw nearly all the favorites pull through. The only thing approximating an upset was the one-up victory staged by Mrs. Ferrie over 14-year-old Marlene Bauer, who was the tournament's co-medalist.

Miss Riley, from Fort Worth, Texas, staged an uphill battle to win over surprising Mrs. Frank Ingersoll of San Mateo, Calif.
