

Roger J Zipfel
11/08/2000 02:35 PM

To: shamrock1@wirefire.com
cc:
Subject: Results from extraction studies

Jeff, I just got the results of my extraction studies. I was able to only get C-8 in water levels of 1 PPB or so. I want to calculate how much C-8 that maybe in an annual situation. To do this I need an approximate size of the bin or outdoor storage area the supernate briquettes might be stored in.

It appears that the rain run off will be in the 1 PPB range which is below our community guide level. That's great news and should release us from any concerns in this arena.

Roger.

RJZ030485

EID214529