Learn from experts and network!

ATMOsphere Europe Summit 2023 is the perfect opportunity to meet with a large community of HVAC&R stakeholders supporting the business case for natural refrigerants. If you want to dig deep into the present and future of this sector, you can't miss it!

This is the chance to learn from top experts through a versatile programme including:

- Keynote presentations
- Market trends
- Policy developments: PFAS workshop, EU F-gas Regulation panel
- Best practice from end users
- Commercialisation of natural refrigerant heat pumps
- Transport & MAC sector: opportunities for natural refrigerants
- Latest innovative technology presentations

- And more!

We look forward to meeting you next September in Brussels!
