Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for confirming that you made your submission. We will make sure that the Rapporteurs are aware of your offer to provide raw data and will come back to you to arrange an appropriate means to submit this to the consultation if needed.

Have you also been in contact with the SMS preparing the broad PFAS restriction topic? They may also be interested in these data.

Yours,

Hi [REDACTED]

Thank you very much for the feedback and support to get our submission in.

At the end we chose to submit a non-confidential document summarising our position and providing information on the hazards and exposure of a few fluoropolymers. We have been using them over the last 50-60 years and we think our experience can be useful to help EChA and the member states forming their opinions.

Unfortunately that means that we didn't submit the bulk of the raw data we have available but we would like to reiterate our willingness to share this data so, if after reading our summary, you would like to receive any of the studies or references we are using to support our position, we would be very happy to share those with you.

Our submission number is : 3403a4cd-28bb-4397-b8ab-e013cb97f0fa

Thank you very much,

Mit freundlichen Grüßen / With best regards

Hi [REDACTED]

Simplest solution would be to split the submission into smaller files and make more than one submission. We can reconcile them on our side after submission.

I discussed this solution with somebody from Gore at the cefic platform meeting earlier this month. Apologies, but I do not remember their name.

Yours,

Hi [REDACTED] Hi [REDACTED]

I am coming back on my question below related to Gore having a data submission for the FFF restriction that exceeds the limit of your consultation platform.

Is there another way we can share this information with you?

Best regards,

[REDACTED]

Hi [Redacted]

I see that [Redacted] is out of the office until next week. Is my question below something you can help with?

Many thanks in advance.

Best regards,

Dear [Redacted]
Many thanks for the reply. I have passed on the message to the Gore team.

Separately, Gore is having a technical problem in responding to the FFF consultation. As you will see from the attached e-mail, they have nearly 1GB of data they would like to submit but the platform can't accommodate this. Is there another way they can share this information?

Best regards,

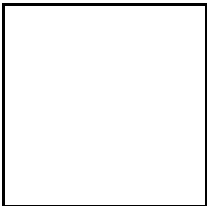

Executive Chairman
