

Credit: Dr. Robert A. Kehoe, Cincinnati, Ohio.

To the Editor:- Are there any cases in the medical literature of lead poisoning from containers in which milk and water are boiled or other food cooked? What is the present belief regarding the hazards of using pewter as a container for food or drinking water?

M.D., Habana, Cuba.

Answer.- (Kindly double space)