the old wooden ones off—D. B. H. Answer: Yes, you can remove over your old surface with red cedar shingles using 8-2 clear vertical-grain shingles properly nailed. By doing this you can save money, avoid litter and dirt, have protection during the work against the weather and greatly increase the insulating properties of the roof.

Question: The outside walls of my house are covered with a patented plaster which is badly cracked and is loose in spots. Can it be repaired and made waterproof and how much will it cost?—R. L. T.

Answer: Your house can be made as good or better than new by applying waterproof put over all of the exterior walls and then plastering on galvanized plaster with water-proof cement and color stucco. If the present surface is badly cracked, or if it has pulled loose from the walls the one or badly cracked areas should be removed. It would be best to consult an experienced plasterer about the cost of repairing your house.

Question: My oak flooring is badly worn and I want to lay a new one—A. C. F.

Answer: Unless your floor is in an exceptionally bad condition it can be made to look practically as good as new by sanding and refinishing. The cost of this kind of work is very small compared with the amount of improvement it will make in your house.

Question: We are going to add a sun porch to our house which will cost about $120. Will it be necessary for me to have a plan drawn and a permit before starting work?—C. L. W.

Answer: Complete plans are advisable but not necessary in your case. If you will just draw a sketch of the proposed new work showing the framing construction you will be able to get your permit. A permit is required for all building alterations and additions exceeding $50 in cost, labor and material included.

Question: I want to build a garage. What size would you recommend and what would it cost?—C. N.

Answer: It would suggest that the size of a single garage be at least 12 ft. by 16 ft. British shipbuilding industry reported the best year since the war, 1927-1928.

Patented in Palestine more than 5000 acres of orange trees a year.
