

Leading architectural firms have been working for several years developing concepts for utilization of the IC's lake front air rights. This is one of several such concepts viewed from above North Michigan Avenue. The closest right-hand building in the development is now under construction.

