Dear Lynn:

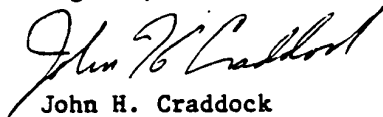

Re: OSURF Project No. 715618/76367

Confirming our phone discussions, we recognize the significant overall benefit to the research project to add an additional person capable of performing the required sample analyses. In view of the additional samples needed and the delays due to acute personnel problems, addition of such a qualified person is appropriate and should enable us to meet our analytical schedule on a timely basis.

We realize that addition of this person may make us miss our forecasted costs for the original project. However, it may well fall within the contingency area.

In any event, I suggest you proceed as rapidly as possible to locate and add the additional analyst to the project.
