

KATHLEEN W. CLAXTON, B.S.
Projects Manager

Environmental Health Associates, Inc.
2150 Shattuck Ave., Berkeley, CA 94704

Curriculum Vitae

Professional Experience

|              |                                                                                                                                                      |
|--------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1980-present | Projects ManagerEnvironmental Health Associates, Inc.Berkeley, California                                                                    |
| 1977-1980    | Environmental Health Research AnalystCenter for Community Health StudiesSRI InternationalMenlo Park, California                          |
| 1977         | Technical Literature SpecialistCenter for Occupational and Environmental Safety and HealthStanford Research InstituteArlington, Virginia |
| 1976-1977    | Assistant Personnel AdministratorOscar B. Hunter Memorial LaboratoryWashington, D.C.                                                         |

Education

|               |                                                                                                               |
|---------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1979-present  | Enrolled in Master's Program in Environmental PlanningSan Francisco State University                      |
| 1980 (Summer) | Graduate Session in Epidemiology (coursework inepidemiology and biostatistics)University of Minnesota |
| 1976          | B.S., Environmental StudiesGeorge Washington University                                                   |

Publication

Morgan, Robert W.; Claxton, Kathleen W.; et al: "Mortality Among Ethylene Oxide Workers". Journal of Occupational Medicine, Vol. 23, No. 11, pp. 767-770, November, 1981.

UCC
015066