The message below is from Dr. Irons concerning the JCML launch event. The attached documents are three translated articles about the event, the agenda, and Dr. Irons comments during the event.

Best regards,
Matt

Attached are translations of newpaper clips that appeared in the Shanghai Press concerning the Inaugural, along with a copy of the agenda and my inaugural comments. We also have an official description of the laboratory and the projects that is being translated into English, that I will get to you. I will also try (emphasis added) to include for you a web site address for a Fudan news release.
