STANDARD OIL COMPANY
LOUISVILLE, KY

November 3, 1932

Ethyl Gasoline Corp.
Chrysler Building
New York City

Gentlemen:

I am attaching hereto copy of a letter addressed to our Savannah manager by the Standard Service Station in Kingsland, Ga. which is self-explanatory.

Mr. [redacted] the young man referred to, you will understand, was an employe of the Standard Service Station. Our only interest in this station was the loan of a small amount of money to Mr. Hill, the proprietor. The station is operated by him and in his name, he handling our products including Crown Ethyl Gasoline.

We would appreciate advice from you as to what if any course you would recommend pursuing in a case of this kind.

In the meantime, our Savannah manager is having his local salesman investigate very quietly this whole proposition and if we hear anything of further interest, we shall pass same on to you promptly.

Yours truly,

W. G. Violette
