Dear Sir:

I have been conducting a research project concerned with the action of various organochlorine compounds on microorganisms. As part of this project, I would like to examine the effects of various PCBs on bacteria. I would appreciate it greatly if you could provide me with samples of one or two Arochlor preparations or provide me with information about where these could be purchased. I would also appreciate any technical literature about the Arochlors that is available.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Thomas R Corner
