

Painting for the future

WITH Dutch Boy white-lead on your brush you paint for the future—your future as a recognized master craftsman. Dutch Boy works for you and with you. Every job you do with Dutch Boy helps to increase your reputation as a skilled workman in your community.

Dutch Boy white-lead is pure white-lead. Whether mixed with linseed oil for a gloss finish or with flaking oil for a flat finish, Dutch Boy white-lead makes a paint that combines beauty with long wear. It produces a painting job that saves the surface and pleases the property owner.

As a partner on the job, Dutch Boy white-lead makes the day's work easier. Painters everywhere choose it because it has unusual covering power and spreads easily under the brush.

If at any time in the course of your work you run into an unusual paint problem or desire information about securing different finishes, blended effects, colors, etc., please feel perfectly free to call on us for assistance. We like to be of every possible service that we can to you.
