DESCRIPTION OF INDUSTRY AND NATURE OF
INTERSTATE TRADE AND COMMERCE INVOLVED

5. The corporate defendants manufacture and sell approximately 95% of the brake linings manufactured and sold in the United States.

In 1946, their sales amounted to approximately $35,000,000.

6. The corporate defendants sell brake linings primarily to the following classes of customers: (1) other friction material manufacturers, including other corporate defendants; (2) motor vehicle and industrial equipment manufacturers; (3) distributors, jobbers and dealers; (4) large consumers such as municipal, state and federal governments and owners of large fleets. The bulk of the sales are made to customers in class 3; in 1946, such sales amounted to approximately $25,500,000 or 73% of the total sales of brake linings. This class of distributors, jobbers and dealers resell mainly to retailers who in turn resell to motor vehicle owners.

7. The corporate defendants manufacture brake linings in the States of California, Connecticut, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina and Pennsylvania and ship therefrom to customers in every state in the United States.

COMBINATION AND CONSPIRACY IN RESTRAINT OF TRADE

8. Beginning sometime in 1927, the exact date being unknown to the Grand Jurors, and continuing thereafter up to and including the date of this indictment, the defendants and other persons and corporations unknown to the Grand Jurors have unlawfully combined and conspired to fix, establish, maintain, control, manipulate and tamper with the prices, terms and conditions in the marketing of brake linings in restraint of the aforesaid interstate trade and commerce.

9. The aforesaid combination and conspiracy has been a continuing one, the substantial terms of which have been that the defendants agree that:

- (a) The Association prepare and distribute among the defendants uniform price lists;
- (b) Each corporate defendant publish in its own price lists the prices contained in the Association price lists;

- (c) The Association prepare and distribute among the defendants classifications of customers;
- (d) The Association prepare and distribute among the defendants uniform discounts, terms and conditions of sale to be granted purchasers in each such classification;
- (e) Each corporate defendant use the classifications of customers, uniform discounts, terms and conditions of sale in selling to purchasers;
- (f) Each corporate defendant require its customers in their resales, to use discounts from the list prices identical with those contained in the uniform discounts described in subparagraph (d) above;
- (g) Each corporate defendant require retailers to sell at the list prices;
- (h) From time to time the price lists, classification of customers, discounts, terms and conditions of sale, sales and resale prices would be changed.

EFFECTS OF THE COMBINATION
AND CONSPIRACY

10. The aforesaid combination and conspiracy hereinabove alleged has had the following effects with respect to brake linings as intended by the defendants:

- (a) Prices have been increased at all levels of sale;
- (b) Prices have tended to become uniform at all levels of sale;
- (c) The public and other purchasers have been charged high and unreasonable prices;
- (d) Substantially all price competition has been eliminated.

J. D. Roach,
of Mr. Hayden, Special Agent in Charge
Southern Leads Co. Plots Not Quoted

TRUTH

11. The combination and conspiracy heretofore alleged has been formed in part and carried out in part within the Southern District of New York in the following manner:

- (a) Meetings have been held in New York City at which the defendants have agreed with each other upon uniform list prices, classification of customers, discounts, terms, conditions, sales prices and resale prices;
- (b) The Association has prepared in New York City uniform price lists, classification of customers, discounts, terms and conditions which it has sent out to the defendants;
- (c) Substantial quantities of brake lining have been sold in New York City at the fixed prices, including sales to the City of New York.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
DIVISION OF INVESTIGATION

DESCRIPTION OF INDUSTRY AND NATURE OF
FOREIGN TRADE AND COMMERCE INVOLVED

5. The corporate defendants manufacture friction materials in several of the States of the United States and ship substantial quantities to foreign countries. The corporate defendants manufacture and sell approximately 97% of the friction materials manufactured in the United States and shipped in foreign trade and commerce. In 1946, their foreign sales amounted to approximately $2,700,000.

COMBINATION AND CONSPIRACY IN RESTRAINT OF FOREIGN TRADE

6. Beginning sometime in 1932, the exact date being unknown to the Grand Jurors, and continuing thereafter up to and including the date of this indictment, the defendants and other persons and corporations unknown to the Grand Jurors have unlawfully combined and conspired to fix, establish, maintain, control, manipulate and tamper with the prices, terms and conditions in the sale of friction materials in restraint of the aforesaid foreign trade and commerce.

7. The aforesaid combination and conspiracy has been a continuing one, the substantial terms of which have been that the defendants agree that:

- (a) The Association prepare and distribute among the defendants uniform price lists, discounts, terms and conditions of sale;
- (b) Each corporate defendant publish in its own price lists the prices contained in the Association price lists;
- (c) Each corporate defendant use the uniform discounts, terms, and conditions of sale in selling to purchasers;
- (d) From time to time the price lists, discounts, terms and conditions of sale, and sales prices would be changed.

Bureau of Investigation, Federal Bureau of Investigation
1947

EFFECTS OF THE COMBINATION
AND CONSPIRACY

8. The aforesaid combination and conspiracy hereinabove alleged has had the following effects with respect to friction materials as intended by the defendants:

- (a) Substantially all competition in foreign commerce has been eliminated;
- (b) The corporate defendants have made sales in foreign commerce at uniform prices;
- (c) The corporate defendants have made sales in foreign commerce at lower prices than they have in domestic commerce.

VENUE

9. The combination and conspiracy hereinbefore alleged has been formed in part and carried out in part within the Southern District of New York in the following manner:

- (a) Meetings have been held in New York City at which the defendants have agreed with each other upon uniform list prices, discounts, selling prices, terms and conditions of sale;
- (b) The Association has prepared in New York City uniform price lists, discounts, terms and conditions of sale which it has sent out to the defendants;

(c) Substantial quantities of friction materials have been shipped through the Port of New York.
