IN MEDIEVAL TIMES, tables were high enough date diners who pulled their feet up on haunches clear of drafts. Today, with evening part of everyday life, separate tables, either of or designed for use by persons seated on floor become one of the most popular items of furnishings.

The table illustrated could well be shared by two, each sitting on zabutons. Or it can be used as a coffee table, or with two or three others as before an extra-long sofa. Its Far East-contingents gives it entree to almost any decor. Well constructed it is finished in black, white, jade or turquoise.
