Papers - Draft

Patsy:

Ethics document looks good, particularly with the consortium ethics page. Should probably also mention the ethics review board.

Regarding resources, it might be valuable to indicate how much of our time, including travel costs this will utilize. For myself, I would expect to use about 10 % of my time with about $ 4000/year in travel.

I was given the assignment to draft 2 papers with regard to critical successful factors for Shell's participation in the Shanghai Health Study - Ethics and Shell Resources. I found it quite challenging and am not at all sure that I am in the ball park, let alone hit the mark. So, I welcome your review and contributions.
