Although nearly 200,000 miles of railroad track are operated in the United States, the work of reconstruction still goes on. During the year now ending 1657 miles are estimated by the Railway Age as having been built. This is the largest mileage of new railroad constructed in a period of 10 years.
The railroads of the United States represent about two-thirds of the total mileage of the world. This country stands far away to the head of all countries in the matter of its tonnage.
And the extraordinary prosperity of the last year or three years has stimulated ated with victory, he punished as a misdeemeanor. I would, however, exempt "saucer ball" from the category, as its effects are consistent with dignity. I also believe with Prof. Gayley that the roses should be suppressed. I shall be delighted to continue this autobiography in your next annual, and tell you what progress I am making today endeavor to walk in a military manner."

This story is told in the Blue and Gold on Earl Garrettsen.

"Earl Garrettsen, '05, prides himself on his society record. Indeed, so well has he worshipped at the shrine of the Goddess 'Society' that a third-section re-examination paper and a pull with the recorder was all that saved him from being among the 500 elect who fell through at the University of Harvard, Sweden."
