Arthur J. Vorwald, M.D., Director
The Saranac Laboratory
Saranac Lake, New York

Dear Arthur:

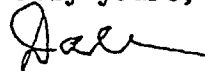

Our mutual friend, Ed Kline, came back so very much pleased with the reception you folks accorded him and with the Saranac set-up in general. Thank you all for all you did for him.

You know by now the magnitude of the job he is attempting as our Medical Consultant. The task of vitalizing our medical program will be no mean one. In addition, it will be Ed's duty to provide the technical know-how on all matters pertaining to the medical phases of our business.

In this capacity, he will be called upon to measure the results of the researches you and others have been carrying on for us. While it is my understanding that he will not now take full responsibility for financial commitments, nor agree to programs which may involve financial expenditures, it is patent that his analyses and recommendations will bear heavy weight in the decisions that will be made in our executive group. So, it is our desire that you keep him fully informed on the progress of your researches in our behalf, and that you feel free to seek his advice in all matters which pertain to the medical. We feel that Dr. Kline's entrance into the picture will serve both you and us well.

With personal regards and Season's Greetings, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

DALE C. HUGHES
