

The normal appearance of the neurone and its degenerative changes are fully described and illustrated particularly the dendrites are fully described and illustrated. The extreme changes in the cerebral cortex in the cause death in 2412 days in order to study the effects of the poisons and are reversible. Groups of animals are seen in normal rats and the disappearance of the poisons which are seen in the dendrite and swelling in the cerebral cortex. The early changes in sections of the cerebral cortex observed over a period of 100 days. The early changes in 10 control rats and is described and illustrated by photomicrographs. Small doses of the poisons were given to the control rats and is described and illustrated by photomicrographs. The normal appearance of the neurone and its degenerative changes are fully described and illustrated particularly the dendrites are fully described and illustrated.

CHANGES PRODUCED
SOME INDUSTRIES
16:34-44, 1957

JANUARY 1959

VOLUME 19