I would appreciate your cooperation in promptly reviewing and approving a reasonable version of the attached draft of our proposed letter to the editor of Business Week.

Since both of you participated in the telephone interview, I think it is only proper that the ultimate letter bear both signatures. Timing is critical. Letters to the editor lose their impact if they are not prompt.

Beyond the "warm feeling" that this letter may create, it will become a part of BW's PCB file and hopefully serve to neutralize the otherwise uncontested "facts" contained in the article when next the editors decide to report on the subject.

With this in mind, I would like to get our reply in the mail tomorrow, if at all possible.

Thanks in advance for your prompt attention to this important project.
