RE: Sherwin-Williams vs.

Dear Tony:

I enclose the Answer that I recently recieved from really has not denied anything in particular although he has indicated his disagreement with the allegations in our Complaint which he acknowledged receiving on August 11, 1994.

obviously will be proceeding "pro se". Judges tend to be liberal with unrepresented Defendants. I will contact him to see if there is any amount he is willing to voluntarily pay on a weekly basis to clear up the debt.

If will not agree to a repayment scheme, then I will attempt to obtain a Judgment at a hearing. As you and I discussed, we may have difficulty proving that Sherwin-Williams had a right to possess the workers' compensation benefits that received while he received long term disability benefits as set forth in paragraphs 16 and 17 of our Complaint.

I also enclose Income Tax Returns. He presumably submitted these to the Court as evidence that he has no ability to repay the debt to Sherwin-Williams.

We will continue to keep you apprised of developments.

Very truly yours,

Richard N. Hewes, Esquire
