Yes out next week, so Friday the 25th or the 1st work (although that is the Fri before Labor Day; I'm here, but not sure about you).

On the visit, sounds good, just keep me posted.

Hey! You're out next week, right? Was thinking next Friday or the following Friday (?)

As far as timing, he'll need to be in town most of Sept now so it would be October and that means Houston. We have to come back to Houston/Austin soon anyway for a WOTUS event, and we could work y'all in separately on the same trip. No specific dates yet, I'll have those next week though!

Hi Tate. Hope that you all are having a good trip. I saw the ND coverage; it all looked positive. You mentioned another visit to ND this fall and a potential visit to Houston for the Administrator. Do you have any information on dates? The weather in ND is pretty uncertain starting October, so any well tour after September is probably not a good use of Pruitt's time (as it could get cancelled last minute). I'm thinking maybe a visit with our executives if Pruitt goes to Houston and then maybe next summer a joint well tour with Zinke in ND. Just my initial thoughts. It could coincide with when EPA is working on the methane reconsideration rule and BLM is working on a redo of the venting and flaring rule. If you have clarity on travel dates, that would be helpful. Thanks.

P.S. Let's schedule that get together once you are back if you are in town for any period of time.
