

Abex manufactured and sold various asbestos-containing automotive friction products during various periods from approximately 1927 to 1987.