so much sit on the mortar box because you always mixed a little more because time would cost more than the plaster.

Q Okay. So about 10 percent of the plaster that was actually mixed would either stay in the mortar box or be dropped on either the scaffold or the floor?

A Yes.

Q How would you go about cleaning the plaster off the scaffold and floor?

A Scrapers and brooms.

Q You would wait until not you, the plasterers, but the latherers would scrape it up?

A Yes.

Q Did that process create dust?

A Yes.

Q Did you ever use air hoses to clean that up, the laborers, once that was done?

A Certain jobsites they did, yes.

Q Would Mr. Vandergucht be around when this cleaning up process was being done?
