Subject: Be Front and Center at the Automated and Connected Vehicle Systems Testing Symposium

The future is here and it's connected

Presented by SAE International, hosted by CU-ICAR, this new event is an exclusive gathering of key leaders, buyers and information seekers to exchange ideas that will drive the industry forward to a fully connected and automated vehicle. It's your opportunity to showcase products and engage with a highly qualified audience looking to establish regulations, devise new methodologies, build new paradigms and source new products to decision makers in the science and technology of connected and automated vehicles. Become an exhibitor or sponsor and make the connections you need to drive your business forward into an automated future.
