Dear Dr. Kehoe:

When you wrote us last December about the case of lead poisoning from the glaze of pottery dishes, you suggested that the case would be written up in a medical journal sometime in the future. We know that publication takes a long time in some cases, but, on the other hand, we do not want to take the chance of missing this item. We have been interested in the subject of lead poisoning for a good many years, and try to keep our files up to date and adequate on this question.

Can you tell us if there is any likelihood of this particular subject being discussed in the medical press in the near future? (We assume that it has not appeared as yet.)

Very truly yours,

Erma A. Hinek
