Medtronic Xomed LLC is a U.S. company that manufactures and distributes medical devices, including sterilizers, for use in healthcare settings. The company is seeking a Presidential Exemption under section 112(i)(4) of the Clean Air Act for its sterilizers, which are used to sterilize medical devices. The company believes that its sterilizers are safe and effective, and that they are not subject to the same risks as other sterilizers. The company is requesting that the EPA grant it a Presidential Exemption from the requirements of section 112(i)(4) of the Clean Air Act.
