ON BACKGROUND: Administrator Pruitt has said he is leading an initiative in which Secretary Perry has expressed interest as well to constitute a “red team blue team” exercise to take an at length evaluation of U.S. climate science.

The Administrator believes that we will be able to recruit the best in the fields which study climate and will organize a specific process in which these individuals we will likely jointly announce to provide back and forth critique of specific new reports on climate science. We are in fact very excited about this initiative.

On the record: "Climate science like other fields of science is constantly changing. A new, fresh, and transparent evaluation is something everyone should support doing."

I am looping in Ryan Jackson. He can better answer these questions. Again, thank you for your help.

Michael,

Given our registrar's comments below, it might make sense to follow her guidance here.

We could have them well framed and I think it would be difficult to see they are prints.

This way Scott could have some our better works. What do you think...?

Hi Susan,

I think lending from our Display Collection would be appropriate; however, we have very few in the collection and they are not of good quality to represent us in DC. May he be interested in reproductions of some of our more famous works?
