You are cordially invited to attend the 33rd Annual Meeting of Industrial Hygiene Foundation, industry's nonprofit research association for the advancement of health and human relations in its workforce. Membership, which is voluntary, is open to individual companies and associations.

Industry, through our Foundation, conducts numerous programs and activities including the following:

Publications (Digest, Transactions, Annual Reports, Research and Engineering Reports, Special)

Research (histology, immunology, pathology, toxicology)

Industrial Hygiene Engineering (process and plant design, surveys, services)

Data Bank (biostatistics, clinical, toxicity ranges)

Education (fellowships, seminars, symposia, colloquia, courses)

Further national progress in employee and public health conservation must continue to depend on the mutual respect and cooperation of government, industry, private research, and educational institutions. The Foundation's meeting again this year has been specifically designed by its Trustees to advance plans and programs of occupational health. Participation of all who share our mission and our interest in health is earnestly solicited.

Sincerely,

E. K. DAVISON, Chairman
IHF Board of Trustees

.... COVER ILLUSTRATION ....

IHF's new headquarters building, pictured on the cover, represents another milestone in Foundation history. Having 6,100 square feet of space, the new facility doubles that occupied in Mellon Institute (headquarters location for 33 years) providing expansion for existing and new IHF programs of research and education. The Centre Avenue Building is proximate to the medical, scientific, educational and hospital complex of the Oakland-Shady-side area. Visitors are welcome for a tour of the building; however, reservations must be made in advance.
