Subject: Repeal Day Toast

Friends,

Today marks the 84th anniversary of the end of Prohibition – the failed “noble” experiment of the 1920s. I hope you’ll join us in marking the occasion and share I, Whiskey with friends and family. Raise a glass to the human spirit and the freedom to imbibe with us on Facebook and Twitter.

Thanks to repeal, we toast the makers creating today’s booming craft scene and whiskey renaissance. We celebrated this afternoon by hosting a luncheon with friends from the John Locke Foundation and their recently published history of distilling in North Carolina, Still & Barrel: Craft Spirits in the Old North State. If you weren’t able to join us, you can watch the discussion here.

Earlier this fall, executive producer Richard Morrison entreated festival goers at the 25th anniversary WhiskyFest to Fight for Our Right to Party. Next week, we’re headed to I, Whiskey’s 10th film fest – the Silicon Valley International Film Festival – where we’ll be screening at Google and Salesforce headquarters.

Cheers,

Amanda France
