Business Women To Have Their Week Oct. 6-13

October 6 to 13 is National Business and Professional Women's Club Week, and the following proclamation was made by Mayor Hugh Dormody of Monterey to launch the Week officially here:

"The week of October 6 to 13, inclusive, is hereby proclaimed to be set aside to give public recognition to The Business and Professional Women's Club of the Peninsula, an organization taking an active part in civic and political affairs, a service organization that is a benefit to the community.

HUGH F. DORMODY.

President Harry S. Truman praises the members of the BPWC also, saying, "National Business Women's Week gives me the welcome opportunity to pay tribute to the business and professional women of this country for the part they played in winning the war, and for their current activities to win the peace.

"Through my long experience in government, I have come to have a great respect for the influence American women exert to better their community, their state and their nation. I know that the business and professional women throughout the country will continue to do everything they can to keep the United States in the forefront of the struggle for permanent peace."

TRY TO SAY IT FAST

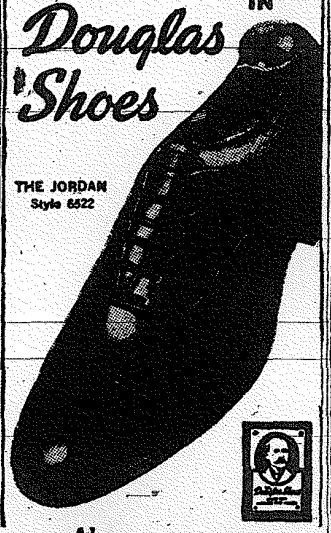

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—A University of California press release dared radio announcers to tackle this one: "Westan baby limas, resistant to root-knot nematodes, and new early maturing varieties of fordhook limas will be shown at fall agronomy day. Westan is resistant to root-rotting organisms."
