TO: Bob Hammann

Following our telephone conversation concerning JLM's memo, I called him to find out if someone had been injured on the planter box in the main office building. His response was, "No, it just occurred to me as I was passing by that the corner was sticking out".

If this "problem" should be followed up, please let me know what I can or should do.

The planker box on the second floor landing of the main office is a hazard. The corner next to the entrance door should be rounded.
