Dear 5.1.2e,

At this time we are evaluating all the responses from the 2nd consultation round that ended 17th of October, including the RMOA conducted by ChemServie. Because of that, we would refrain from a meeting this year. However, we will contact you when our evaluation has advanced further if there is need to clarify any remaining or new questions that come up during our evaluation.

Kind regards,

5.1.2e

Dear 5.1.2e,

Thank you for the offer to discuss the RMOA by ChemService. As you probably know, the second consultation just ended and we currently need to evaluate the information we received. However, we would like to contact you later on for a meeting (earliest probably in December).

Kind regards,

Dear 5.1.2e,

The Fluoropolymers Product Group (FPG) has commissioned the consulting firm ChemService to perform an independent Regulatory Management Option Analysis (RMOA) for Fluoropolymers. You can find the full study attached.

Chemservice's RMOA has concluded that the best regulatory option to deal with concerns about fluoropolymers (FPs) will not be a full restriction but a combination of the following measures:

- A derogation of FPs and relevant monomers from the PFAS REACH restriction, supplemented by a Voluntary Industry Initiative which guarantees that industry will address the situations of concern related to manufacture and use of FPs
- an update of existing EU regulations on waste that would impact the end-of-life treatment of FP products, ensuring adequate technical controls are put in place to minimize to the furthest possible extent any risk derived from the disposal of FP products and from articles containing FPs

The study has also confirmed that there are no alternatives that can replace the high performance provided by fluoropolymers in "virtually every critical application in which they are used".

I will be pleased to have a meeting with you to answer to any questions you might have about this report and present our next publication on the phase use of our products.

Do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind regards,

5.1.2e
