

To: Dravis, Samantha[dravis.samantha@epa.gov]
From: National Geographic
Sent: Wed 11/29/2017 6:35:00 PM
Subject: Get the Facts: Forum on Ocean Conservation

Recap: 10/18 Forum on Ocean Conservation

No Images? Click here

On October 18, 2017, National Geographic Society President and CEO Gary E. Knell hosted the Forum on Ocean Conservation, the second forum event in our Mapping the World Public Policy Dialogue. The event featured a conversation between National Geographic Explorer-in-Residence and leader of the Society's Pristine Seas project Dr. Enric Sala and Co-Chair of the bipartisan Senate Oceans Caucus Senator Sheldon Whitehouse of Rhode Island.

Click the button below for a recap of the facts shared by Dr. Sala and Senator Whitehouse about the dangers facing the ocean today and to learn more about how National Geographic and the federal government are confronting these issues.

We hope you will continue to be part of the conversation on the critical issues facing our world today by joining us for our upcoming Forum on Antiquities Preservation – stay tuned for more information! We would also like to take this time to again offer National Geographic as a resource to you as you continue your work to better protect our world's oceans.

Have any additional questions? Reply to this email or reach out to us via our facts and resources page contact form, and we will do our best to connect you with any applicable resources.

GET THE #MAPPINGTHEWORLD FACTS

Wednesday, May 3, 2017

GET THE FACTS

Wednesday, October 18, 2017

LEARN MORE

Details to Come

Think your colleagues would like to join the next event? Please email us at info@natgeoforums.org.

National Geographic

Learn More | Register Now