is going to get up here and ask you for an awful lot of money and he is going to ask you to make us solely responsible, when that is not the case.

He is going to talk to you about a lot of pain and suffering and let me warn to you now and let me apologize to you up front to you and all of the lawyers, I am also going to talk about it too, because he is going to ask you for a lot of money, and if he doesn't cover areas, I am going to talk about it, no disrespect to Mr. Vandergucht's memory or to Mrs. Vandergucht, none at all.

Finally, they have the burden of proof, they get to go first. Like most things in life, first impressions are lasting. We hear something and make up our minds and say to heck with this rest of this stuff, my mind is made up.

Because they get to go first, that happens. What I am asking you to do is please keep an open mind. Wait until you hear all of the evidence before you make up your mind. If you really do that, then you will be fair to me and that is all I ask you for.