Subject: Doing Business in China - A Shell Experience

This morning I attended a portion of a presentation by Laura Adams, Shell People Services, who had gone to China with a graduate school group. She had a very interesting, informative, and creative presentation with slides about the history, culture, etiquette, industry, etc of China. The group visited more than 5 cities, actually went inside factories. I believe that it might be worthwhile to invite her to do the presentation for the HSE organization. I attended for 4 reasons: (1) I am working on the Shanghai Benzene Epi study, (2) Nanhai, (3) I am visiting Singapore, a country with a large Chinese population, in November, and (4) to learn.

As you can see below, Chuck suggested I contact Laura Adams.

How do I find her?!

Thanks

Barnaby

Barnaby,

With us getting more involved in China, would you be interested in having this person come to London to give us a briefing?
