Subject: RE: With this much rain ...

All of the above seem like a reasonable approach. I expect mushrooms to pop up next . Had to wear my bright blue rain boots in today as an explosion of rain left a river running in front of my apartment.

Oh, and I hear that next week things will heat up and sizzle like a sauna.

Anyone doubting climate change should be forced to spend days outside.....

I'm trying to decide whether to mold, rust, or build an ark. Any suggestions?
