From January 1929 to March 1930 he was employed as a "loader" -- under H. L. Litz--from March 1930 to the time he was discharged he was employed as a "blender", but was not blending Ethyl till about May or June of 1930. Any additional information you might desire will be gladly furnished. About the days lost columns above--there were very few of them spaced 7 days apart as they would have been if they were all Sundays--so most of them are days he laid off or was sick etc., as his was a 7 day job.
