Gentlemen:

& in that event we would no doubt install illuminating equipment

We have your letter of April 13. As Mr. Lynch, the manager of our Los Angeles office, advised you on March 17, we are now acquiring land in Vernon, California, on which we expect to erect a foundry and other buildings. It is not possible to foresee exactly what products will be manufactured in Los Angeles when these buildings are completed. Our rivet sales to customers on the Pacific coast have been very large and are increasing rapidly, so that it may well be that we may some day manufacture these rivets on the Pacific coast. However, we do not see that this need be a matter of concern to you, because we are now taking care of our Pacific coast business by shipment from Edgewater, New Jersey, and whether we manufacture these products in California or New Jersey would seem to us to be purely a question of internal management. We have no desire to do anything that will curtail your business in any manner. We are appreciative of the cordial relations that have existed between our companies for years.

Very truly yours,

ALUMINUM COMPANY OF AMERICA
